you belong

As a St. Joseph's College of Nursing graduate, you'll belong to a prestigious group of nurses who are distinguished by their compassion and expertise in science, health care, counseling, technology and communication. In just 18 months, you can earn an associate in applied science degree with a major in nursing and be eligible to take the NCLEX-RN licensure exam. Our classes are small, our instructors are generous with their time and attention, and you'll start working with patients just six weeks into the first semester.

*Some additional weekday hours are necessary throughout the program to complete curricular requirements. Hours may vary slightly.
